

1 then I think it should be defeated.

2 THE CHAIRMAN: Does any other delegate desire
3 to speak in favor?

4 Delegate Weidemeyer is recognized to speak in 5 opposition.

6 DELEGATE WEIDEMEYER: Mr. President and 7 members of the Committee:

8 I rise in opposition to this amendment because,
9 as I have mentioned previously, if we follow the recommen-
10 dation in R&P-2 and we also follow the recommendations
11 of the General Provisions Committee, two committees which 12 have recommended that Article V of the present Declaration
13 of Rights be incorporated somewhere in the Constitution -- 14 we didn't put it in the Declaration of Rights. Most 15 of our committee felt that it was very vital and probably 16 because it carried over transitory provisions should come
17 under General Provisions, but, in any event, should be 18 embodied within our Constitution; and if so, I can see no
19 trouble at all with the language of our present recommen-
20 dation.

21 I do see some possible trouble with the language
